

To whom it may concern,

My name is Chris Watt and I am the CEO of local businesses Bath ASU, Pharmaxo Pharmacy Services and Microgenetics.

Our team of 340 employees in Corsham are part of the critical healthcare infrastructure in the UK. We are currently supplying medicine to 275 NHS hospitals and 9,000 patients at home. Every day we make over 3,000 injectable medicines for patients living with cancer, chronic illness or in need of pain relief.

Every member of our team, whilst we don't carry NHS ID badges, is a key worker. All the work we do allows our NHS colleagues to focus on their front line in intensive care units. If we cannot do our work, around 50,000 patients' treatments each month will fall back on NHS resources, which currently need to remain focussed on the COVID-19 front line.

If you are reading this letter it is because your parent cannot work from home, is a key worker and needs access to support for their children as per the government's instruction. They can do their vital job supporting NHS patients.

If you have any questions, then please call me on 07802 695727.

Thank you for all your efforts supporting our team's children at this most testing time.

Yours faithfully,

Chris Watt
